ABOUT THE FACULTY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

Education plays one of the most important roles in the development of a nation. It shapes the politics, literacy, technology, agriculture, economics, and pretty much everything else that defines the sustenance of a nation. Education is crucial in creating a national mould for defending the interests of the country and of the world as a whole. These are just some of the reasons why we should put in our maximum efforts to develop a sound culture in learning and research. Assuring the quality and desirable outcomes of our education is thus very important. Usually, assessments and accreditation done by various organisations by evaluating educational institutions and providing quality assurance certificates does this. The NBA, NAAC, etc. are some of the most prominent organisations that do these kinds of accreditation in India, along with governmental bodies like the NIRF that provides a ranking framework.

The Aim of this FDP is to Enhance the knowledge and spread valuable information by our quest speaker.
